

Couples Coaching & Counseling

featured on the Dr. Phil Show

LivingFluent.com provides quality relationship coaching through advanced psychometric assessments. Utilizing the LIFE Languages™ it is possible to have the tools to build and sustain a vibrant relationship, deeper connection and productive communication. Enjoy an exciting time of self discovery and surprisingly fast understanding of the ones you love the most. Discover how to speak through one another's unique filters to meet each others unique and often misunderstood needs. There is simply NOTHING like this tool and training.

Cost and Benefits

(2) Pre-Marital Coaching sessions are $99 per couple. In addition, the 18-22 page customized LIFE Language™ assessment is $45 per person. This investment will provide a full LIFE Languages™ profile on each of the couple, and quality instruction from Advanced Certified Trainers of the LIFE Languages™/KLLP™. In addition you will have access to many other relationship building tools including the state of the art psychometric tool CrossTalks™ which accurately predicts and charts internally wired communication points of conflict and quick reference tools to resolve conflict and repair emotional or relational wounds. Finally... the tool that can prevent a marriage crisis before it has the chance to develop!

CONTACT sarai@livingfluent.com or brandon@livingfluent.com

Brandon & Sarai Honeycutt

Brandon Honeycutt™ is a ministry professional with over 25 years of experience in ministry, organizational development, team building, human productivity, and conflict resolution. He has pastored large churches, taught at the University level, and traveled as an organizational coach/consultant. Brandon has solid expertise in effective communication and building healthy relationships. Brandon received a BA from Hardin-Simmons University, an Mdiv from Logsdon Seminary, and a post-graduate designation in leadership from the NICL.

Sarai Honeycutt™ is a first generation Cuban-American who speaks Spanish fluently. Sarai's academic education is in Clinical Psychology, but her expertise and training are largely a result of her prolific military career. Sarai served honorably for 12 years in the US Army chaplain corps. While serving, Sarai had the opportunity to counsel service members, as well as conduct personal and professional development workshops, and retreats worldwide. Sarai has worked successfully in the corporate world as a marketing campaigns manager, funds management and as a corporate trainer.

Brandon and Sarai are both Advanced Certified Trainers and Certified Couples Coaches in the LIFE Languages™ psychometric system and seasoned marriage counselors.

LIFE Languages™ couples coaching &

The LIFE Languages™ psychometric system is one of the very best tools available to assist you in understanding and relating to others! Learning how to use this tool will be a game-changer in lasting relationships!

This system will give you life-changing personal insights that will produce benefits in your personal life and long-term relationships!

People agree that the LIFE Languages™ unlocks insights that are mind-blowing. When you see your own KLLP™ results, your desire to know more will be insatiable. The constant positive feedback from people is humbling and keeps us passionate about helping you to understand and use this incredible tool!

7 LIFE Languages™

There are seven distinct ways that people tend to process information, communicate and relate to one another. This system not only reveals what these 7 ways are and how they work, but it provides you with an affordable and laser-accurate psychometric assessment that shows the varying strengths and weaknesses each individual has in these 7 areas. The training gives you proven techniques that unlock the self-discovery process within individuals, and allows you to speak through the targeted filter that the specific person is hearing through. Years of research and implementation are laid out in an easy and fun way to understand, remember and practice.

This tool will assist you in your professional life, and extended family relationships as well!

Have your In-Laws take the assessment!

This is a tool for anyone serious in increasing your own success in working with people and helping them to achieve greater levels of understanding or productivity. For personal relationships this tool is an absolute must have.

The KLLP™

The Kendall Life Language Profile™ is an affordable online assessment that is the foundational tool of the LIFE Language™ system. This assessment takes about 20 minutes to complete. Upon completion, an 18-22 page profile for that individual is created and emailed. This assessment has 36 points of psychometric evaluation. All of the results have direct implication to the individuals processing, communications, and interpersonal relationships. The individuals acceptance level, interactive style, internal control level, intrusion level, projective level, learning preference, and overall intensity are a sampling of the metrics provided.